

DSC Service Lines Update

Contract Management Committee

June 2022

DSC Service Lines

- Mod 0804 Consultation closed out on 1st April 2022 – no detailed comments raised regarding the UNC drafting
- Stable version of the SCR text against which to assess the DSC Service Lines
- Change raised with Change Management Committee – 28th April 2022 – with a view to seeking approval at the May Contract Management Committee
  - Propose 10 New Service Lines due to CSS – NB: plus further Service Line related to 0728B CNCCD
  - Moving of 1 Service Line from Direct Service Code Services to Agency Services Non Code
  - Amendments to a large number of Service Lines to reflect new Code References / terminology change for CSS Supply Points
- Amendments to ‘Agency Services GT and IGT - Non-Code’
  - Deletions of 5 Agency Services GT Non Code Service Lines, and 2 from ASIGTNC
  - New Service Lines will be required
- Amendments to ‘Specific Services’
  - Deletion of some existing Service Lines

DSC Service Lines

- It is planned that this change will be approved at the June CoMC

Why is this relevant to ChMC?

- When we are making changes to the Service Description Table we raised a change, XRN5505, and this was presented to this Committee ‘for information’
- This change is slightly different, we have also circulated three documents in the Change Pack on 16th May 2022 (3035.1-MT-PO- CSSC UKLM Updates) – two of which are relevant to the SDT documentation as the UKLM is cross referenced
  - UKLCD1 - Code Communications Reference
  - UKLBD2 UK Link IS Service Definition
- These documents sought to consistently define:
  - the SLAs
  - the maximum design volumes for the new processes

Why is this relevant to ChMC?

- An amendment to the version of the document issued in the 16th May change pack was communicated on 25th May...
- This sought to clarify the SLA end time (in addition to the start time that we had already defined):

Typically, the CDSP will respond to, or issue, Code Communications within 2 Supply Point System Business Days. As a result of the Ofgem Faster Switching Programme a number of exceptions to this timing have been defined in the following table. A number of the timings are defined against 'application processing' – i.e. UK Link system processing, which will not occur during planned outage or system downtime and, if applicable, will rely on batch processing. The end point at which SLA timings will be determined is when the UK Link application provides the file to Enhanced File Transfer in order to pass this across the UK Link Network (IX).

Agency Services GT / IGT - Non-Code

- A number of new obligations are placed on the CDSP as the GRDA in the REC, expect that we will require New Service Lines to reflect these
