1 Summary

What

Updates will be made to the referencing of the “Class 1 Ratchet Charge Guidance Document” within the Uniform Network Code (UNC), in Transportation Principle Document (TPD) Section B, Section G and Section V.

Why

It has been identified by the Uniform Network Code Committee that the current title of the document that supports the Ratchets process needs clarifying.

How

This Modification will amend the name of the “Class 1 Ratchet Charge Guidance Document” to “Distribution Network Operator Designated Class 1 Guidance Document”.

2 Governance

Justification for Fast Track Self-Governance

This Modification should be classed as Fast Track Self-Governance because it has no effect on existing or future gas consumers, competition between parties, operation of network systems or UNC procedures nor does it unduly discriminate between different classes of UNC parties. It simply proposes amending a reference document name that is referred to in the UNC.

This change has previously been suggested at the August Uniform Network Code Committee and again at the August Distribution Workgroup:

<https://www.gasgovernance.co.uk/sites/default/files/ggf/2020-09/Consolidated%20Minutes%20Distribution%2027%20August%202020%20v2.0%20change%20marked.pdf>

Requested Next Steps

This Modification should be subject to Fast Track Self-Governance

3 Why Change?

It has been identified by the Uniform Network Code Committee that the current title of the document that supports the Ratchets process needs clarifying. This Modification will amend the name of the “Class 1 Ratchet Charge Guidance Document” to “Distribution Network Operator Designated Class 1 Guidance Document”. Updates will be made to the referencing of the “Class 1 Ratchet Charge Guidance Document” within the UNC in TPD Section B, Section G and Section V. For the avoidance of doubt the process to which the document relates, namely the designation of sites into Class 1 by Networks, remains unchanged.

4 Code Specific Matters

UNC TPD Section V12.1(e)

In each of the above sections of code, the name of the “Class 1 Ratchet Charge Guidance Document” will be amended to “Distribution Network Operator Designated Class 1 Guidance Document”.

To reflect the change in the UNC, the UNC Related Document will also be accordingly retitled.
