UNC Modification 130: CIA Response

The CIA supports the implementation of Modification 130 as increased data transparency and greater information will present customers with a more accurate picture of supply and demand levels. This will enable consumers to identify the level of demand-side response already provided by the market and take a view as to whether further response is required, which will aid security of supply. Furthermore, implementation of modification 130 would avoid the adverse commercial impact on some consumers, which would be created by implementation of Modification Proposal 0121.

The CIA believes that modification 130 will provide users with the appropriate level of information and therefore we support the implementation of this modification.
