

Gas Transmission

GS(M)R Review Update

Transmission Workgroup

5th November 2020

nationalgrid

GS(M)R Review Update

IGEM's consultation on changing the UK gas quality specification and putting it into a new IGEM standard closed in Summer 2020

The IGEM Gas Quality Working Group met in October to consider the issues raised in consultation responses

This could not be completed in one meeting so the group will meet again on 2nd November

Once the working group agrees on the final version of the standard, it will progress through IGEM's governance process

Separately, HSE are preparing the Government impact assessment and consultation on the GS(M)R change proposals, including change to the quality spec

HSE's current timetable is for the Government consultation document to be published in June 2021 and, subject to consultation, changes coming into force in April 2022

For further information please contact Philip.Hobbins@nationalgrid.com